

message pad

What's New?

intelligent Receipts

The newest service now available from Message Pad is intelligent Receipts, which enables automatic confirmation of call details, or other pertinent information, to your customers by e-mail or SMS. At the close of the call, the content that you have specified will be sent directly to the caller, using the contact details they have given during that call.

Paul White, CEO of Message Pad, comments "Our B to C clients find the intelligent Receipts service particularly useful and report that their customers are always impressed when they receive a virtually instant message confirming their order, delivery date, call back details or reference number, for example."

Benefits

- » Provide impressive customer care
- » Encourage customer communication
- » Avoid errors
- » Advise of special offers etc

To receive a quotation or more information on this exciting new service, please contact our Customer Service Team for more information.

Telephone:
0800 093 1325

Email:
solutions@message-pad.com